Clinical Pearls Regarding Diagnosing and Prescribing for the African American Population for Healthcare Providers who are Not Prescribers

Description: During this session, the participants will be engaged in lecture as well as case based interactive discussions. The goal is to give non-prescriber's sufficient knowledge and skills so that can better assist in the diagnostic and treatment process for African American clients.

By the end of the session, the learners should be able to:

1. Describe the clinical presentation and risk factors associated with various disease states
2. Describe the mechanism of action, clinical use, contraindications, adverse reactions, and clinically significant drug interactions of various drug classes
3. Design a patient-centered, evidence-based therapeutic regimen for a patient
4. Identify appropriate monitoring parameters when initiating or modifying pharmacotherapy
5. Identify clients who need a higher level of care and refer accordingly
