Description:
The focus of this course is health equity, an exploration of the ways systemic racism and various kinds of discrimination impact the mental and physical health of the African-American populations in the US.

Measurable Learning Objectives:
- Describe four historical conditions that have an influence on the health of African-Americans
- Name four mental health conditions or health behaviors related to systemic racism
- Explore four ways the health of African-American people have been affected by systemic racism and discrimination
- Examine five ways tech companies are addressing health equity for African-Americans
- Provide recommendations and best practices for participants who consider themselves allies for the treatment of African-American mental health clients

About the Presenter:
Karinn Glover, MD MPH, Assistant Professor of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at Albert Einstein College of Medicine and Attending, Adult Outpatient Psychiatry Division, Montefiore Hospital, Bronx NY. Currently Assistant Professor of Psychiatry at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine, Dr. Glover teaches psychopharmacology and aspects of psychotherapy to Psychiatry and Family Medicine residents.
